Subcommittee Reports:

DRC – Commissioner Gaffney reported that the DRC conducted a courtesy review of the Bakar Climate Engenuity Hub, a UC Berkeley project near the Li Ka Shing Center. The shared laboratory workspace features a flexible design and an undulating façade with integrated solar panels. They also reviewed 2820 San Pablo Avenue, a development spanning two zones with two buildings using different materials to fit the street context, including one residential unit on the top floor. Vice Chairperson Gaffney found the projects interesting and, with Chair Duffy, noted that hearing about commercial buildings is valuable, as the ZAB usually sees multi-family residential projects, and that such developments help the jobs-housing balance.

Staff Communications: Staff had nothing to report.
