

Berkeley Considers on OpenGov

Registered users on Berkeley Considers can post their comments online with or without their name.

However, registration is not required, and your response will be shared with directly to staff only.

The screenshot shows the Berkeley Considers OpenGov interface. At the top is a navigation bar with links for Home, Info, Help, and Sign in. The main heading is "Show your response publicly". Below this, there is explanatory text about privacy and consent. The form contains several fields: "Your Email Address" (text input), "Your Street Address" (text input), "City" (text input with "Berkeley" entered), and "State" (dropdown menu with "California" selected). There is also an unchecked checkbox for "Show my name publicly next to my response (optional)". A blue "Submit" button is at the bottom left. A callout box on the right contains the text "Click here, to submit your response without creating an account. Your submission will be shared privately." A red arrow points from this callout to a red circle around the text "on this website, click here." at the bottom of the form.

Home Info Help Sign in

Show your response publicly

The City of Berkeley has contracted with OpenGov to protect your privacy and maintain civility on this forum.
In order to show your response publicly, OpenGov needs to ask for this information.
Per their privacy policy, OpenGov will not share your info with the City of Berkeley or anyone else without your consent.

* Your Email Address:

Why OpenGov needs this >

* Your Street Address:

Why OpenGov needs this >

* City:

* State:

Show my name publicly next to my response (optional)

Click here, to submit your response without creating an account.
Your submission will be shared privately.

If you only want to share your response with Berkeley staff and NOT publicly on this website, click here.

This is the response you will see after you submit without an account.

Thank you for your participation

- Your response will be shown to City of Berkeley staff only.
- We will review all responses, and will use them to help improve our decision.

It's not too late to share your feedback publicly with your community.

By showing your response publicly on this website, you will help shape the community dialog and your voice will be heard by a greater audience.

- It only takes a minute.
- Your response will be shown publicly. Displaying your name is optional.
- Your information is 100% private and secure. Read more...
- You will be able to make changes to your response.

Make my response public

No thanks