Manager of Engineering, Ron Nevels, provided an update on staffing: Recruitment is still underway for the Supervisor Civil Engineer vacancy; an offer was rejected for the Associate Civil Engineer; a new candidate is scheduled to be interviewed for the Associate Civil Engineer; an offer has been made for the Junior Public Works Engineer; recruitment for Engineering Inspector closes on Monday – currently there are three inspector vacancies to fill; the Chief of Party position is still vacant.

Deputy Director, Wahid Amiri, provided an update on the daylighting program, reporting 73-percent of intersections citywide are daylight with red curb.

Commissioners asked clarifying questions about the hiring process: Why was the offer for the Associate Civil Engineer rejected; are salaries comparable to similar Bay Area positions; how long does it take between hiring staff and when they come up to speed; can Measure FF funds be used for hiring; who previously held the Supervising Transportation Engineer role?

Commissioners asked clarifying questions about the Woolsey-Fulton project and the shared micromobility program: What project is being completed at the Ashby BART Station on MLK Jr. Way; what is the plan for implementing physical barriers at daylight intersections; have micromobility companies been responsive to keeping scooters out of the public right of way?

Commissioners made the following comments: utilizing UC Berkeley Parking and Transportation interns could be beneficial; micromobility companies are extractive: they have no incentive to kick customers off the system, they rarely follow up with the users, people lock scooters to light posts and block pedestrian pushbuttons and companies need to be fined directly for misparked scooters. Commissioners asked the following clarifying questions: Are there consequences in the contract for the micromobility companies; why reduce the number of scooters versus fining the companies; what happened to the Bay Wheels bikes located at Telegraph and Haste which disappeared two weeks ago? It was a well-used location.

B. DISCUSSION/ACTION ITEMS

1. Jeronimus Alley street naming

7:02 pm: Commissioners discussed naming the alleyway running parallel between 5th and 6th streets from Camelia to Virginia street in honor of Wayne Jeronimus. Mr. Jeronimus worked for the City of Berkeley Housing Department from 1976 to 2000, where he was part of a team working to provide affordable housing within city limits. The Commission heard a request for this street naming from the Berkeley Path Wanderers Association at its September 21, 2023 meeting. Though the Commission voted unanimously in support then, staff clarified that the Berkeley City Council Rules of Procedure and Order require that the hearing and the vote occur at two separate meetings. Thus, staff requested that the Commission vote again.

7:02 pm Action: It was Moved / Seconded (Leung / Moss) to recommend to the City Council that they approve the name change of “5-1/2 Street” to Jeronimus Alley for the alleyway running parallel between 5th and 6th streets from Camelia to Virginia street.

2. Daniel Ellsberg honorary street naming

7:05 pm: Commissioners discussed installing three ceremonial street name signs on Kittredge Street at Milvia Street, Shattuck Avenue and Fulton Street in honor of journalist Daniel Ellsberg. Mr. Ellsberg was a Berkeley journalist, professor and dean of the UC Berkeley Graduate School of Journalism; he leaked the “Pentagon Papers,” which contributed to the end of the Vietnam War, and was a peace activist who spoke out against nuclear weapons. The Commission heard a request for this street naming from the Western States Legal Foundation at its April 17, 2025 meeting. Though the Commission voted unanimously in support then, staff clarified the Berkeley City Council Rules of Procedure and Order require that the hearing and the vote occur at two separate meetings. Thus, staff requested that the Commission vote again.

7:07 pm Action: It was Moved / Seconded (Hothi / Fike) to recommend to the City Council to install three ceremonial street name signs in honor of Daniel Ellsberg on Kittredge Street at Milvia Street, Shattuck Avenue and Fulton Street in consultation with community members about the specific locations at each intersection.

Administrative Procedures from the City of Berkeley Commissioners' & Board Members' Manual, 2025 Edition, pages 62-63 regarding minutes:

Although the Brown Act does not require minutes, except for closed sessions, the Commissioners' Manual does require minutes of commission meetings. When required, minutes are limited to action minutes only. The draft minutes must be converted to PDF and posted on the City's website within seven days after the meeting. Minutes are unofficial until approved by the commission.

The secretary shall keep an accurate record of the commission's proceedings and transactions. The secretary shall provide action minutes similar to those provided to the Council by the City Clerk. Action minutes list the date, time, and place of the meetings; the staff in attendance; the commissioners present and absent; and a clear and concise description of final actions taken. Approved motions are indicated by "moved, seconded, and carried" and include a breakdown of the vote. The vote breakdown includes the commissioners voting yes, no, abstain, absent, recused, and reason for recusal. Subject: Re: Jeronimus Alley Renaming: October 28 Berkeley City Council Meeting

Hi Noah.

Thank you for your guidance. Below is my note to the Commission. Please forward.

Best wishes,

Lawrence

Dear Transportation and Infrastructure Commission,

Regarding the renaming of 5-1/2 Street to Jeronimus Alley:

I wish to thank you in advance for recommending this change to City Council for two main reasons. As you know, Wayne Jeronimus worked for the City of Berkeley from the 1970s through the 1990s. I applaud your recognition of his tireless work on affordable housing which is ever important here and everywhere. The name change also brings attention to the alley as a valuable community resource. Many people enjoy the alley every day for its human scale and mostly pedestrian nature. It is also becoming a mural arts destination, and the new recognition will make more Berkeley residents aware of its importance.

I'm personally invested in the alley. I have led a couple of community clean-up days there and continue to help murals get funded there through Commotion West Berkeley. I also want to recognize Berkeley Path Wanderers Association for their work to keep the alley clean and for recommending this official name change.

Sincerely,

Lawrence Grown

Members of the Transportation and Infrastructure Commission, Noah Budnick, Wahid Amiri as secretary:

I'm using my public-comment opportunity to let you know about some of the wide range of Public Works matters that concern us and we hope will concern you.

I couldn't attend last month. The August meeting on the stormwater plan was well attended by knowledgeable people who asked good questions. Ricardo Salcedo and the consultant's representative seemed clear and forthcoming, although we never got the promised answers to our chat questions. I hope some of you have studied the slides, and will seek another input opportunity before this is effectively a done deal. I also appreciate Ricardo and Mary Skramstad taking a walk with Toni Mester and me to exchange views on Aquatic Park.

Continuing regarding Aquatic Park, we have reported several different openings into pipes where someone could fall, or drop a body, into deep water. I hope these are being attended to. These parks are our insane asylums, and bodies in Aquatic Park are not new.

We were sorry to identify the bubblegum-pink algae we have seen over three years as purple sulfide bacteria, able to flourish on sulfur alone without light, carbon, or oxygen, and so tolerant of sewage-like conditions that utilities use it to help break down the raw effluent.

We remain disappointed that the city declines to measure depths in the lagoons. The silting in is obvious and increases flood likelihood and algae blooms, which go on even when cool summers don't cause dead alga to form a smelly yellow to black surface scum.

Most important is the big Codornices Creek encampment fire that could have easily killed people, and the second fire two days later that blackened a bicycle and bedsprings and melted tent and mattress cover; the rest is ash and charcoal. A generation ago, the city chose to make this land a Public Works responsibility, not a park. For 25 years, better stewardship has come only after the responsible agencies caused an expensive calamity. We seem to be on the edge of that now, with a cleanup and at last "no camping" signs promised next week. We hope the city revives the system of reporting problems that Berkeley created but let lapse.

Nothing is forever, and cities lack institutional memory. But I hope you will show enough interest as commission members to keep this from repeating and perhaps prevent a death.
