COMMITMENT TO CULTURAL EQUITY

The City of Berkeley commits to supporting equity within the arts and culture sector, and to consistently evaluating its programs and practices. The City recognizes the multiple benefits the arts provide to Berkeley residents at all stages of human development, regardless of race, color, religion, age, disability, national origin, sex, sexual orientation and gender identity/expression.

All members of the community should have equitable access to a rich, rewarding, and inspiring cultural life. Beyond ensuring access to the arts, the City envisions an arts and culture sector that empowers all members of the community to become leaders and to help steer the arts toward a more equitable future that reflects Berkeley's diverse communities.

The City of Berkeley commits to the support of artists and arts organizations that represent diverse cultures, life experiences and socio-economic backgrounds. The City supports the empowerment and equal representation of cultural perspectives that have been traditionally and historically underrepresented.

Draft: Mission Statement for Civic Arts Commission May 21, 2019

The Civic Arts Commission was established by Ordinance 5253, amended by Ordinance 5631-NS and amended again by Ordinance.......to advise the City Council on all matters regarding arts and culture for the city of Berkeley.

The civic arts commission recognizes that the city of Berkeley is a place where the arts are fully integrated into civic life and community identity. Therefore the mission of the civic arts commission is to advocate, nurture, and sustain arts and culture city wide, including insuring equity, democracy, inclusion. The civic arts commission steers the dispersal of City of Berkeley grant support to artists, arts organizations, and festivals, and arts education.

WALL A and WALL B with STONE PANELS

There are two low walls on the main entrance walkways to the plaza facing the streets of Martin Luther King Jr. Way and Hearst Ave.

I propose to place a stone panel in each wall. They will be engraved with two different designs based on native trees. These panels will enhance the walls and give additional visual markers as the visitors enter the plaza.
